What is Scholars' Bank?

This site is an institutional repository for University of Oregon research in digital form, including preprints, technical reports, working papers, student terminal projects, data sets, and more. It's a tool for collecting, disseminating, and preserving the intellectual output of the UO community.

It's a small part of all of UO's research, though. Check the library's catalog and home page for other collections.

Scholars' Bank uses MIT's DSpace software.
